Intentionality

Dan Burcham indicated that he has spoken previously about intentionality and distributed materials on the Seven Vectors by Arthur Chickering. He asked that the departments consider how they use this information and noted that this can be applied not only to the classroom but to a student’s walk of life as well. He stressed that when the departments do something important, they do it with someone else also. He also asked that the departments:

- Identify what works for them and what does not.
- Funnel energy into things that are important.

Dan went on to explain the Tinto model and distributed information on that model. The Vice President’s major initiatives for the coming year were distributed and the directors were asked to have their initiatives flow into this. His major initiatives are:

1. Create a seamless environment for the Ferris student.
2. Begin planning for a new student union.
3. Enhance commuter student support.
4. Plan to improve the overall student engagement at the University, including off-campus sites.
5. Enlarge on the Great Lakes Scholarship initiative.
6. Enhance TIP planning.
7. Implement a comprehensive retention plan.
8. Develop a prototype for a comprehensive recruitment plan.
9. Get more involved in SPARC and align division goals to support those initiatives where applicable.

Dan indicated that work is being done on the co-curricular transcript and Leroy Wright asked that child care be reviewed as well.

Update on Construction Workers

Paul Sullivan indicated that four construction workers had been struck by lightening outside the McKessy House and two of those four were in a Grand Rapids hospital.
Swine Flu – H1N1 Influenza

Paul Sullivan indicated that there have been 40,000 H1N1 cases reported in the United States so far with 243 deaths since last spring. He indicated that Ferris needs to be ready should an outbreak occur in Fall semester. A flu vaccine is currently being worked on and may be ready by October.

Paul also noted that the seasonal flu vaccine has been ordered again for fall semester.

Federal Regulations re Student Complaints

Mike Cairns distributed information on the federal regulations regarding student complaints including information needed and a form to be used. He indicated that each office will need to keep track of any significant, written formal complaints. Once a semester, any major complaints that were submitted will be forwarded to the Vice President’s Office. Discussion followed on what each department was currently doing and what would be the best way to handle complaints insuring that confidentiality is taken into consideration. This will be discussed further.

Guide to Student Affairs Assessment Process

Mike Cairns noted that Ric Underhile will be at our retreat on Friday to streamline things about assessment and help the directors prepare for the assessment highlights to include, “What are you assessing?” – “So What?” – “Now What?” “What Next?” Mike stressed that Student Affairs personnel are educators and we need to know how we impact student learning.

Student Affairs Retreat

The Student Affairs Administrative Retreat will be held on Friday, July 24, beginning at 8:00 a.m. in the Founder’s Room. The directors were asked to wear comfortable clothes and shoes.

At the conference they discussed a summarily suspension versus an interim suspension and noted that they are the same. She will be changing the name to interim suspension so that it is understood by the students.
